

Is Homework Necessary

Is homework necessary? It is a hard topic but it is my opinion that homework is not necessary because we already spent five and a half hours in school which is enough. We don't need to remind ourselves. Some could people are very busy. It can cause stress and more etc.

Firstly: Homework eats our time sometimes people could be rushing somewhere and have to do homework quickly and could even get all of it wrong because their parents told them to and it's not their fault they did not have control over the situation and then get bad grades and that's not fair and could cause worse relationships between the family or arguments.

Secondly: People have siblings to take care of and nobody can do homework and take care of a younger person. It can be very stressful and stress is not good for your health! I have a dog that is very demanding which means I have to take care of him because then I won't be have time for both. It is not fair on the teacher they have to correct over two hundred copy's a week and it not fair for them as us. Homework takes away our time it can lead up to a whole day gone and it's not fair because sleep takes eight hours school takes five and a half hours and that already is thirteen hours gone from twenty four then add one hour and then taking walks with my dog two hours that is sixteen and a half hours gone and eight hours to ourselves.

Thirdly: Family is important but when you have homework you have to close yourself in a room and stay in the room for more than an hour just to revise and it's worse when you come back late for example at six and you finish homework at half past seven you won't have much time because you have to get ready to sleep wash yourself and that's it for the day.

Fourthly: It is certain that homework is just another revision that our class does multiple times a week or even longer for example maths we revise maths two times a day by doing Mental Maths after Mental Maths we do maths problems and that is around an hour and twenty minutes then after school we do maths homework which is from ten to twenty minutes and the same with other subjects that we do in school.

Conclusion: homework causes stress, less time to have for yourself, less time for your family and activities that keep you healthy and much more therefore I think that homework is not necessary.

Ms Doherty We hope our class persuaded you to consider our opinion since we know you are making a homework policy.
