Everybody knows stories about Vikings and they were rough and tough and loved to fight but by reading this report you'll know more than longboats and swords. You'll be filled with the knowledge of Albert Einstein.

The Data We Learned

Viking Origin:

The Vikings were people who lived in the Northern Europe. They had settled in the Scandinavian domains which are now the nations of Denmark, Sweden and Norway. The Viking was phase from about AD700 to 1100. Vikings were known as the Norse before becoming Vikings, they were ordinary people with ordinary lives.

But they chose to stop being peaceful and became Vikings.

Viking Jobs:

The type of jobs they did in the Viking ages were:

- Blacksmith
- Warrior
- Trader
- Bowl Maker
- Hunters
- Bakers
- Fisherman
- Sailors
- Boat Builders
- Leather Workers
- Fabric makers
- Jewellers
- Bone Carvers
- Weapon Makers

These jobs were some of the jobs they did in the Viking age.

Currency:

The type of currency they used in the Viking age were Silver. They used silver as currency in the age of the Viking because it was big in value.

Food: The type of food the Vikings eat were probably very weird and disgusting. The Vikings eat the crops they grew the animal they raised and the leftovers they had. The Vikings had small farms but could keep a family fed for a few good years.

The Vikings had two meals a day. They had breakfast and dinner. The Vikings usually had a lot of food to feed the whole family at some times and very little to eat at other times.

Weaponry: The Vikings had many weapons since they were usually at war all the time. The type of Weapons they used were sharp and very hard an example of a few weapons and gear they used in their time were

- Swords
- Axes
- Spears
- Helmets
- Armour
- E.T.C

It was fun for you to be listening to mine and Sean's
