

Is Homework Necessary?

(Zoie/Michal)

In my opinion, I think that homework is un-necessary. This is because you can spent more time with your family, improve on your hobbies and spend more time outside. Sometimes it is known that homework causes stress.

Firstly, without homework you can spend more time with family/friends, therefore making better relationships. This could improve your self-esteem and language.

Secondly, doing homework can stop you from practising and improving on your favourite hobbies like art, sports and reading. It can also stop you from relaxing.

Lastly, homework is known to cause stress, doing homework can be hard and really stressful, e.g. Not knowing if you completed the right page.

In conclusion, I am writing to persuade you and the principal of CSCNS to think that homework is un-necessary. There is way more ways to spend your free time. That's why Michal and I think that homework is un-necessary.
