

IS HOMEWORK NECESSARY!!!

By Luke

I think that homework is not necessary because we need to spend time with family and I know some people will go on their ps4 and Xbox.

if I got no homework I would go outside. One day you could be going to your best friend's birthday but your mam said after your homework and you do your homework and next you know it is six o'clock and you missed your friend's birthday ...

FIRSTLY, you can go outside to your friend are you can play with your brother and sister if you have one like we need to have fun. Are you have a project but that day you have homework and you can't do your project

SECONDLY, you cannot spend time with your little brother are sister. You can also get stressed with homework like if you get stressed what you going to do take a break and you go for a rest and next thing you know it is the next day...

Sooo the end...